Annual Report Executive Brief

Global Overview of Antisemitism in 2025

Executive Summary

1

This Annual Report presents a global overview of antisemitism in 2025, drawing exclusively on real-world incidents that were documented and confirmed in mainstream and Jewish media, alongside analysis of antisemitic discourse trends online.

2

Findings indicate sustained high levels of antisemitic activity across multiple regions, with clear concentration in a small number of countries. The USA, the UK, Australia, France, Canada, and several European states accounted for the highest volumes of reported incidents, underscoring the persistence of antisemitism as a transnational security and social challenge.

3

Temporal and geographic analysis shows that antisemitic incidents increased sharply following major conflict-related events, with repeated spikes observed across multiple countries. Incident data from 2025 confirms a wide range of antisemitic activity, including harassment, vandalism, and multiple lethal attacks targeting Jewish individuals and institutions in 2025—ranging from harassment and vandalism to severe violence, including lethal attacks targeting Jewish institutions and individuals.

Executive Summary

4

A dedicated case study on Australia's Bondi Beach attack illustrates the evolving threat landscape, including small-cell terrorism, legal access to weapons, and rapid post-attack escalation in related antisemitic incidents and online amplification.

The report also documents the parallel intensification of antisemitism in the information environment.

Initial findings on the scale and sentiment of antisemitism across social media are included in this report, with more comprehensive platform-level analysis and network mapping to follow in the final report.

An analysis of ten prominent fake news cases demonstrates how misinformation, miscaptioned imagery, and distorted claims—particularly around Gaza—shaped international narratives and fueled hostility toward Jews and Israel.

In parallel, the report tracks the institutionalization of anti-Israel pressure through major policy decisions and a high volume of UN resolutions, as well as the role of prominent influencers and networks in driving anti-Zionist and antisemitic narratives.

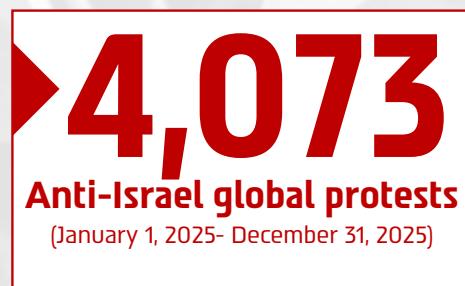

6

Overall, 2025 reflects a convergence of three reinforcing dynamics: an escalation in violent antisemitic incidents, the continued concentration of reported incidents in specific geographic areas, and the expansion of online hate and misinformation ecosystems.

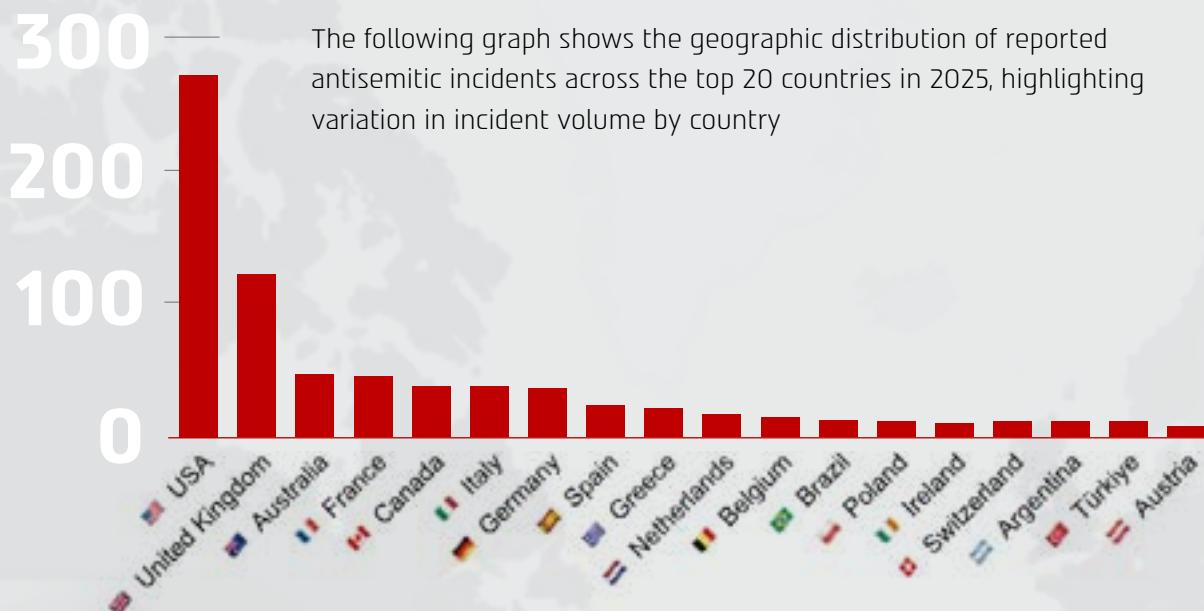

Global Antisemitism in 2025

This distribution highlights the prevalence of hostile and antagonistic narratives, while neutral and positive mentions comprise a smaller share of overall activity, offering insight into the tone and scale of antisemitic online discourse in 2025.

Monthly Antisemitism Trends: Online vs. Incidents

The chart presents a monthly comparison between antisemitic incidents and antisemitic posts over the course of 2025.

Antisemitic incidents are shown on the left vertical axis, while antisemitic posts (measured in millions) are shown on the right vertical axis.

Partial convergence between the two trends is observed in June, July and September, when elevated levels of online antisemitic content coincide with relatively high incident counts.

Case Study - Australia: Antisemitic Violence and Security Implications

On 14 December 2025, two gunmen opened fire during a public Hanukkah celebration organized by Chabad of Bondi at Bondi Beach, Sydney. The attack took place during the first-night candle lighting near Bondi Park and was attended by families and children. Witnesses reported 20–50 gunshots, triggering mass panic and lockdowns in nearby businesses. Emergency services responded within minutes. Authorities confirmed approximately 15 fatalities and numerous wounded, including a Chabad emissary. One attacker was subdued by a civilian; the second was killed during a police engagement.

Perpetrators and Radicalization

The attackers were identified as Sajid Akram (50), a Pakistani-born Australian resident, and his son Naveed Akram (24), an Australian citizen. Sajid held a valid firearms license and legally owned multiple rifles, with no prior criminal record. Naveed had previously drawn intelligence attention due to associations with an ISIS-linked network, though he was not under active monitoring at the time of the attack. Investigations concluded that both attackers had pledged allegiance to ISIS. ISIS flags and improvised explosive devices were recovered from their vehicle, indicating ideological motivation. Security services confirmed the pair had traveled to the southern Philippines weeks earlier, where they are believed to have undergone militant training.

Attack Assessment

Australian authorities assessed the shooting as a lone-actor-style terrorist attack carried out by a family cell, with no evidence of broader operational coordination. Key security patterns included:

- ▶ Legal access to firearms
- ▶ Prior ideological exposure without sustained monitoring
- ▶ Symbolic targeting of a Jewish religious event
- ▶ Small-cell operational autonomy

Post-Attack Impact

In the days following the attack, multiple antisemitic incidents were reported nationwide, including a firebombing of a rabbi's vehicle in Melbourne and antisemitic abuse of Jewish students in Sydney. A clear clustering of incidents occurred within ten days of the attack.

Government and Policy Response

Prime Minister Anthony Albanese announced a package of reforms addressing antisemitism and extremism, including aggravated hate speech offenses, expanded visa cancellation powers, and simplified prosecution mechanisms. Parallel announcements focused on tightening firearms regulations, with public scrutiny centered on the attackers' legal weapon access.

Online Antisemitism

Online monitoring showed a sharp surge in antisemitic discourse, with volumes rising over 400% on the day of the attack and remaining significantly elevated through December. The sustained spike suggests the attack acted as a catalyst for extremist amplification, misinformation, and opportunistic hate speech.

Significant Anti-Israel UN Resolutions in the Context of Antisemitism

This section examines significant United Nations resolutions from 2025, analyzing their implications for Israel and their role in shaping international legal, diplomatic, and political pressure in the context of antisemitism.

	HRC 58/2 – Human rights situation in the OPT, incl. East Jerusalem (UNHRC) ¹⁰	Positions Israel as the primary violator in Gaza & the West Bank; calls for international accountability, legitimizes arms embargo language, endorses ICJ/ICC pressure, and advances long-term legal isolation.
	HRC 58/26 – Human rights in the occupied Syrian Golan (UNHRC) ¹¹	Reasserts that Israel's control of the Golan is illegal; pressures Israel to reverse administrative/legal integration regardless of Syrian context.
	HRC 58/27 – Right of the Palestinian people to self-determination (UNHRC) ¹²	Reinforces UN position that Israeli occupation blocks Palestinian statehood; political pressure tool rather than operational change.
	HRC 58/28 – Israeli settlements in the OPT & Syrian Golan (UNHRC) ¹³	Declares settlements illegal, urges cessation and dismantling, and encourages states to differentiate between Israel and settlements.
	GA ES-10 – Protection of civilians & humanitarian obligations (UNGA Emergency Special Session) ¹⁴	Gaza-war resolution that condemns Israeli aid restrictions, frames Israel as violating humanitarian law, and legitimizes collective international pressure.
	UNGA – Endorsement of the New York Declaration ¹⁵	Makes a UN-backed conference document the official UN roadmap, locking in demands on Israel regarding occupation, Jerusalem, and legal accountability.
	UNGA – Peaceful settlement of the question of Palestine ¹⁶	Umbrella resolution blaming Israel for lack of peace; reiterates withdrawal, settlements illegality, Jerusalem status, refugees – without naming Hamas.
	UNGA – Work of the Special Committee to Investigate Israeli Practices ¹⁷	Renews a permanent UN body focused solely on Israel, institutionalizing ongoing investigation of Israeli actions only.
	UNGA – Israeli settlements in the OPT & Syrian Golan ¹⁸	GA version of settlement condemnation; reinforces illegality and calls on states to act accordingly.
	UNGA – Operations of UNRWA ¹⁹	Condemns harm to UNRWA operations in Gaza and demands Israeli facilitation; does not address Hamas use of UN facilities.

Notable Fake News Stories

This section examines notable fake news stories from 2025, highlighting recurring patterns of misinformation, visual manipulation, and narrative distortion that amplified polarization and antisemitic sentiment in the context of Israel and Gaza.

Date	Image	News	Description
April 2025		False claims of Gazan resettlement in Ukraine or Syria	Social media posts falsely asserted that U.S. President Trump and Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu announced a plan to relocate or resettle 1.5 million Gazans in Ukraine and Syria. Independent fact-checking found no credible evidence of such a plan, and the video cited was taken out of context, with no statements by either leader about designated relocation sites for Gazans. ²⁰
May, 2025		Misreported death of Gazan child, Abdul Rahim Muhammad Hamdene	Reports circulated online and in the media claiming that eight-year-old Abdul Rahim Muhammad Hamdene had been killed during Israeli military activity while seeking humanitarian aid. Later verification showed that the child was alive and with his family, demonstrating that the initial reports were inaccurate and based on unverified or erroneous information. ²¹
May 20–23, 2025		Misleading claim about 14,000 Gazan babies dying in 48 hours	A United Nations under-secretary-general's warning was widely shared that "14,000 babies will die in the next 48 hours" unless aid reached Gaza, implying an imminent large-scale death toll from malnutrition. The comment was referenced by media outlets, social media posts, and political figures, but the official report he cited actually projected that an estimated 14,100 children under age 5 could experience severe acute malnutrition over an 11-month period, not within two days. Multiple news organizations updated or corrected their coverage after the UN clarified that the figure was based on a long-term projection (IPC report) rather than a precise short-term death count. ²²
June 19, 2025		Misrepresentation of militant operatives as "journalists killed in Gaza"	A viral post by a high-profile account claimed that roughly one-third of Tel Aviv had been damaged or destroyed following Iran's response and that Israeli military aircraft were relocated to Cyprus. The claim garnered millions of views but was not supported by official damage assessments, satellite imagery, or credible media reporting, and significantly exaggerated the scale of destruction. ²³

Date	Image	News	Description
June 23, 2025		False claim that Israeli pilot was captured by Iran	Viral posts on X and Facebook claimed that an Israeli Air Force pilot named "Sarah Ahronot" was captured by Iran following the June 2025 escalation, using an image that garnered over one million views. Reuters Fact Check confirmed the image showed a Chilean Navy pilot from a 2021 interview, not an Israeli pilot, and Israeli authorities denied that any pilots were captured. ²⁴
Mid-2025		Misleading Gaza starvation image involving Osama al-Rakab	A widely circulated image of a severely underweight Gazan child was shared on social media and mainstream media in online discourse as evidence of deliberate starvation caused by Israel. Subsequent reporting and official statements indicated that the child, Osama al-Rakab, suffers from a serious pre-existing medical condition unrelated to food deprivation, and that the image was used without proper medical or contextual clarification, rendering the starvation narrative misleading. ²⁵
August, 2025		Staged Gaza 'starvation' photos circulated globally as evidence of famine.	Images depicting Gazans as starving were widely published and shared internationally as proof of mass famine in Gaza. Subsequent analysis and documentation indicated that several of the most prominent photographs were taken in a controlled aid distribution environment and selectively framed to emphasize distress prior to food distribution. Repeated use of the same individuals and locations suggested staging or selective framing, while the images were presented as authentic. ²⁶
August 10, 2025		Misrepresentation of militant operatives as "journalists killed in Gaza"	International reporting and social media narratives frequently described individuals killed in Gaza as "journalists," without disclosing verified affiliations with Hamas, Palestinian Islamic Jihad, or Hamas-run media outlets. Subsequent investigations and documentation revealed that a number of those labeled as journalists were active members or operatives of terror organizations, or employees of media entities directly controlled by Hamas. The omission of these affiliations contributed to misleading portrayals of civilian casualties and press targeting. ²⁷

Date	Image	News	Description
October 13, 2025		Misleading framing by CNN correspondent Christiane Amanpour	CNN's chief international anchor Christiane Amanpour issued multiple public apologies following statements that were widely criticized as inaccurate or insensitive in the context of the Israel-Gaza conflict. These included remarks suggesting Israeli hostages were "probably being treated better than the average Gazan," the characterization of terror attacks as "shootouts," and past analogies that critics argued trivialized or inappropriately referenced the Holocaust. ²⁸
December, 2025		AI-generated Gaza flooding video misrepresented as real	A short video showing children wading through deep floodwaters in Gaza was widely shared on social media with captions suggesting it was real footage of winter flooding in the "war-torn territory". Fact-checkers found visual anomalies and AI artifacts in the footage, and compared it to verified photographs of flooding, concluding that the viral clip was AI-generated or heavily manipulated rather than authentic documentation of conditions on the ground. This misinformation spread across multiple languages and platforms, blending real context (rain and some flooding due to Storm Byron) with fabricated visuals. ²⁹
